2014 UPDATE: Was reading over some recipes in this gem while getting ready for the holidays and found Anna's instructions for making your own Vanilla extract using Vodka. She had included this in her book 30 years ago and its just become popular in the last five. She was ahead of her time. So am now carefully going through her book again in the New Year. I am also consistently substituting Greek Yogurt for sour cream in her recipes.I love this cookbook. It's small, well laid out, great for a house gift, and the recipes are wonderful. Most of the recipes are on one page but all of the recipes have easy to read ingredients and very concise instructions. This little gem has been around since 1985. I have a well worn paperback copy and it has held up quite well. Anna Pump owned and ran the Loaves and Fishes food establishment in East Hampton, Conn. Anna is good friends with Ina Garten and has been on Ina's television shows a number of times. Ina also refers to Anna's recipes in many of the Barefoot Contessa cookbooks and doesn't hesitate to extol Anna's delicious and creative recipes. Anna has written three very good cookbooks. Loaves and Fishes was the first and I think its my favorite. Her second book is entitled "Country Weekend Entertaining" and relates the story of her Bed and Breakfast in Conn - this one is also full of great dinner and entertaining menus and recipes. Her third cook book is "Summer on a Plate". I use this one a lot during the summers at our cottage. All of her books are full of wonderfully easy recipes. It doesn't get any better than that. I don't know about you, but I don't need recipes that are 4-5 pages long and when I'm done cooking, I have a mountain of pots, pans and bowls in the sink waiting to be washed.
